VOL. VII. NO. 1

HONOLULU, HAWAII TERRITORY, SUNDAY, JANUARY 9, 1910. EIGHTEEN PAGES

Entered Jan. 19, 1908, at Honolulu, Hawaii, as Second Class Matter, Under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879

JIMMY HOLT IS ACCUSED OF STEALING

Ex-Tax Assessor Arrested on Charge of Embezzling Public Funds.

IS NOW OUT ON $5000 BOND

Allegation That He Converted to Own Use $727.20 of the Territory's Money.

James L. Holt, former tax assessor of the first taxation district, and one of the most prominent men in Honolulu, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant charging him with the embezzlement of $727.20 while he was in office. Holt secured bond in the sum of $5000 and is now in custody of the police.

It is charged that Holt stole the money while he was tax assessor and before he was dismissed for other alleged embezzlements. In support of the charge the officers of the attorney general's office and of the county attorney's office have the receipt of James L. Holt, tax assessor, for $727.20, received from Alexander Lindsay, the district judge, and point to the fact that Holt's books show no record of the receipt of the money. They claim that Holt put the $727.20 in his pocket.

Foolish Graft.
If, as is charged, Holt did embezzle the money, it was in the most foolish way, an embezzlement that could not possibly fail of detection. The embezzlement, in fact, was of the same general character that has landed several others in jail or sent them to prison in Mexico or Honduras or some other remote part of the earth.

It appears, according to the stories told by the legal advisers of the Territory and of the city and county, that the embezzlement was discovered through suits brought for the collection of delinquent taxes. Suits were instituted by the attorney general's office, on behalf of the territory's officers, against twenty-five persons who were charged with having been in the payment of taxes. The suits came to trial, and the defendants were found guilty. The money was being collected for the territory, and the money was being paid.

Basin of Charge.
The alleged very serious and led to an examination of the books of the district magistrate. This examination also used the fact that there was no record of the receipt of the money. Holt, tax assessor, for $727.20, received from Alexander Lindsay, the district judge, for the receipt of the money. Holt secured bond in the sum of $5000 and is now in custody of the police.

WOULD HAVE MILLER LEAVE WRECK ALONE

Lloyd's Want No One to Tamper With Beached Bark.

The local agents for "Lloyd's," according to a report current yesterday, want to leave the wreck of the Alexander Black, the schooner of that name, beached about the corner of the Diamond Head, alone.

The agents, who were anti-spying going on the case to get out an injunction to restrain Captain Miller from doing any more work in the vicinity of the stranded vessel, but they either thought better of it or haven't got round to take such drastic action as yet.

It might be thought that Captain Miller, being a heavily armed man, would have the right to do about any part of the wreck and undisturbed, but not so according to the agents of Lloyd's. The agents fear that there is a reason for Captain Miller's coming. They refuse to believe that he is merely taking a pleasure sail in one of the vessels of the company, but when he keeps that small vessel hovering within a stone's throw of the wreck, they fear that the thought of the wreck may even be in his mind. They want to leave the wreck alone.

Yesterday an agent from Lloyd's, who is a member of the Lloyd's, visited the United States district court with a view to having the wreck and the wrecked vessel declared a public nuisance. The agent said that the wreck was a danger to the public and that it was a nuisance. The court, however, refused to grant the injunction.

McCANDLESS WAS NOT THE GUILTY ONE
Said yesterday the Postmaster gave what was supposed to be the real explanation of the case of McCandle's. The Postmaster said that McCandle's was not the guilty one.

MAY RECORD PELE'S MOODS

To Build Observatory at Edge of Volcano as Part of College of Hawaii.

THE GOVERNOR IS INTERESTED

Plan Must Be Taken Up Officially With Federal Government at Washington.

The prospects of Hawaii's obtaining a volcanic observatory, to be located at the edge of the volcano of Kilauea, are considerably brighter, according to a statement made by Governor Frazier yesterday, and it will not be surprising if, within a comparatively short period, a well-equipped institution at the edge of the great crater will be in readiness to record the capricious moods of Pele.

BAY CITY WILL SOON BE OPEN

New Mayor Declares That Police Regulations Are Too Stringent.

CHARGES OF INCOMPETENCE

Retiring Administration Comes in for a Scathing Arraignment.

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, January 9.—San Francisco will be opened up in the interest of the pleasure seekers. When he stepped into office yesterday, Mayor P. H. McCarthy, in his inaugural address, advocated a relaxation of the reform measure at present in force, which he characterized as too stringent. He stated that the pleasure seekers of the city were seeking some relaxation of police regulations.

The new mayor administered a scathing arraignment to the old administration, charging it with protecting gambling houses, rank incompetency, and illegal expenditures of public funds.
